

$8 million in bonds okayed for industrial plant equipment

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Twas the night after Christmas, and all through the city government, not much was stirring except for a special aldermanic meeting.

By 9:45 p.m. in a five-minute session Friday evening, the City Council adopted a bond issue of $8 million to finance a picking line at the newly-built Pre-Coat Metals Plant on Illinois Highway Three south of Interstate 270.

No action was taken on setting sewage treatment rates for areas outside the Granite City boundary line. The rate statement was placed on first reading Dec. 23 and will be considered for final action at the Jan. 6 council meeting.

Industrial bonds also were placed on first reading Dec. 23 when a 9-1 vote failed to provide the ten affirmative votes needed to suspend rules and advance the program to passage stage. Adoption was accomplished through Friday's special meeting.

The new line was voted by Alderman Charles Douglas, who was absent Friday night along with Aldermen Roy Poules, Lloyd Bailey, Margaret Nunn and Earl Baker. The latter three also were absent three nights earlier.

Voting for enacting the bond issue in the special session were Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Everett Morlen, Warren Decatur, Glen Sprinkle, Fred Schuman Jr., Paul Bowler, Paul Fisk, Mac Warfield and Michael Modrusic.

"We're giving 138 people a job in this city" by approving the plant equipment financing program, Alderman Morlen commented at a council meeting.

Action had been taken of having the city's authority to issue industrial bonds may expire Dec. 31 and it is unknown whether the federal government will extend it into 1981, John Gitchoff told the council Dec. 23. He was hired by the council as a special city attorney to handle the Pre-Coat Metals bonds issue. Gitchoff was among those present Dec. 26, as were Mayor Paul Schuler, City Clerk Robert Stevens, City Attorney John Papa and other officials.

The special attorney had aldermen sign a resolution to pass the bond issue that could result in the project being dropped and possibly the closing of the entire Pre-Coat plant before it opens.

Chromalloy American Corporation, parent company of Pre-Coat Metals, is expected to complete action on the bonds during board of directors meetings today and tomorrow, Gitchoff said.

After the brief special meeting, several aldermen were critical of Alderman Douglas for forcing it to be called and then not participating.

Douglas had sought at the Dec. 23 regular meeting to defer action on the bonds, but his motion died for lack of a second. On the roll call, he withheld the needed tenth vote on the ground that he had not had a chance to study the bond program. He has frequently criticized rules suspensions that lead to both initial and final action on the same night.

Alderman Friday night contended that Douglas had admitted perusing the bond ordinance and said that he had no specific objection to it, but nevertheless voted negatively.

Alderman Morlen took the floor Friday to assert that it should have been unnecessary to hold the special meeting to pass the bond issue.

Opposing the dissenting vote that had necessitated the special meeting, Morlen said: "We had two meetings to discuss this and they said it was right. If there was a problem with it, it would have been more to their blame than ours. We should have passed this at the other meeting."

Alderman Bowler responded, "We all agree with you, but we didn't have the votes that night."

The 9-0 vote then followed, and the council adjourned the special meeting. The only other aldermanic action Friday was the formal closing of a calendar year financial session.

Bond Ordinance 3752 calls for issuing up to $8 million in industrial development revenue bonds of the city to provide funds for acquisition, construction, equipping and improvement of Chromalloy American facilities.

The principal and interest are to be paid from revenues and receipts derived from the project being financed.

The loan agreement calls for Chromalloy American promissory note due Dec. 1, 1990.

This will be an indenture of trust and security agreement with the Philadelphia National Bank, trustee, and a bond purchase agreement with the company and the American Re-Insurance Co.

Article Seven of the 1970 Illinois Constitution provides that any municipality which has a population of more than 25,000 is a home rule unit with power to perform any functions pertaining to its government and affairs, including—but not limited to—the power to regulate for the public health, safety, morals and welfare.

The bond document relates that the city "desires to relieve conditions of unemployment and to encourage increased employment within the municipality, thereby reducing the evils attendant upon unemployment, and to provide for the increased welfare and prosperity of the residents."

The Dec. 1, 1980, loan agreement sets the interest rate at the promissory notes at 9.675 percent. It specifies that the bonds will not constitute an indebtedness of the city, or a loan of the bonds when the project is financed.

The bonds will be issued under provisions of Section 103(b)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code as amended.

Judge rules for county-union poll

The question of whether the union which now represents a majority of Madison County's governmental employees should be allowed to represent the employees or whether there should be an election to determine if a new union is desired by the majority of county employees appears headed for the appellate court.

Associate Judge John W. Day ruled Friday that the county board must join with Teamsters Local 325 of Alton in calling for a union election to determine whether approximately 400 county employees would rather be represented by the Teamsters or by themselves. The county is a member of the Illinois Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 799.

Pamela Dymas of Madison, president of Local 799, and an employee of the sheriff's department, said she intends to discuss the matter with the county's attorney, Gilbert Feldman, before deciding whether or not to appeal Judge Day's ruling.

The Teamsters claim they have 157 membership request cards and 39 applications for membership while AFSCA has 250 members among county employees. Judge Day said that the National Labor Relations Board and an executive order of Governor James Thompson require an election if only 30 percent of the employees give proof of interest. The Teamsters say nearly 30 percent of the employees have signed authorization cards for an election.

Judge Day's order not only orders the county board to join with the Teamsters in calling for a union election, but continues the temporary restraining order he issued on the county earlier this month banning negotiations with Local 799 while the dispute is settled.

The union and the county were reportedly close to an agreement and it was hoped that a session scheduled last Wednesday night might have reached agreement. That negotiating session was cancelled in compliance with the judge's restraining order.

The attorney for Granite City, attorney for the Teamsters and a lack of clear state laws concerning union elections made it necessary to take the matter to court.

American Steel expansion continuing

The American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City produced castings at a lower level of production during the 1980 fiscal year. Production and shipments were less than the record year of 1979, according to company officials.

But expansion of the plant is continuing, and an upturn is expected in railroad equipment orders.

Works Manager W. P. Donovan said Friday the lower production level resulted from a decrease in demand for freight car components during the month of the October 1979-September 1980 year. The decrease in demand was caused by higher interest rates and a general decline in the economy.

American Steel Foundries was founded in 1902 through the merger of eight independent steel foundries.

The Granite City operation, which was originally known as American Steel Foundries Company, was one of the eight original ASF plants.

Today, American Steel Foundries operates four plants and is a division of American Cast Steel Foundries of Chicago. The Granite City plant is the nation's largest producer of cast steel railroad freight car side frames and bolsters.

Employment at the local plant was reduced in the second half of the past year due to the decrease in production demand.

He noted that $7,900,000 was spent at approximately 20 percent of its work force remains on layoff at this time.

Current employment is approximately 250 employees. American Steel Foundries was an important factor in the economy of the Quad-City area during the past year, with total employee costs of approximately $42,464,000 in wages, salaries and benefits in 1980, Donovan said.

Transit board may act on tax in Jan. 5 meet

By ED GURNEY

The Madison County mass transit district board may be faced with imposing a sales tax and approving a contract with Bi-State Transit when the board holds its first meeting in early January.

The meeting of the three-member board has been tentatively set for 9:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 5, at the Madison County courthouse.

Board member Bill Haine of Alton said the board may have to approve the tax and contract quickly to provide for continuation of bus service to Madison County by Bi-State.

Bus service was threatened to make drastic cuts in service here on Jan. 1 unless local funding was provided to help subsidize the service.

The transit district board by law can impose up to a one-four cent sales tax to provide the local share of the subsidy.

Vi Tucker, Collinsville township supervisor, and Paul Schulz, Granite City mayor, are the other two transit district board members. "We want to make sure we impose only what (amount of tax) we need," Haine said.

The board will need information from Bi-State to use to make the decision on the tax, said Haine, who has been studying the matter.

5 robbed at gunpoint

Craig Brown, 500 W. 2nd St., Madison, and four guests at his house were robbed between 8:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. Sunday at gunpoint.

Three black men, one of which allegedly had a rifle, broke open the door to Brown's residence and one man yelled "Freeze! Get on the floor."

The man then said, "Where is the

One problem concerns how soon Bi-State will begin receiving the subsidy. Haine said the Illinois Department of Revenue has not yet set the tax and made no take effect until Feb. 1, with the collections first distributed to Bi-State in late March.

"We have to be sure Bi-State will continue the service," Haine said.

Haine, a member of the Madison County board as well, said Bi-State will be asked to submit a proposed short-term contract with the transit board.

Among other items expected to be discussed by the board is election of a chairman, selection of a vice-chairman and formation of a citizens advisory committee.

The committee would not have to be formed immediately, but it will probably be discussed, Haine said. The county board resolution forming the transit district called for establishment of the committee.

The committee would help the district get input from people throughout the county.

Haine stressed that the board will be an independent body with a goal of getting fair treatment from Bi-State for Madison County bus riders.

He said the transit tax will not fall heavily on residents with fixed incomes. A second cent of the sales tax on food and drug items is to be eliminated Jan. 1, he noted.

Governor praises selection of Block

Governor James R. Thompson last week commented on President-elect Ronald Reagan's statement that he will nominate John R. Block for United States secretary of agriculture.

"He has made a superlative selection. Jack Block will provide the same kind of leadership as agriculture secretary as he did as Illinois director of agriculture."

"Block is on speaking terms with the joys, the rewards and the challenges of the farmer, because he is one. He knows livestock and grain from working in feed lots and driving a tractor," Thompson said.

"He has proved his leadership and administrative abilities in Illinois as director of agriculture. He has consistently provided advance

"Jack Block is Illinois grown. He has been one of the hardest working members of the Reagan administration. Any time there has been a problem in agriculture, he has been out front pressing for a resolution."

"We will all miss him in Illinois and with him as our advocate, I know that Illinois' position as the number one export state for agricultural products — and as number one or two in corn production — will continue along with our entire farm-to-consumer system."

Highland edges Steelers

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

BRESEE — They improved. Oh, how they improved. Granite City North's basketball team, enthralled in an 0-8 season, were playing Highland in the consolation round of the Breese Mater Dei Christmas Tournament. They shot well, very well. But it wasn't enough. Highland got 28 points from Paul Seiberlich and came from behind to beat the Steelers 62-59 and knock the defending tournament champions from further action.

"We shot well," said North head coach Bill Ohlendorf. "But the biggest difference? It was a large improvement."

North found itself in an unusual position going into the fourth quarter — close. The Steelers trailed 41-38 but led the Bulldogs 44-41 in the fourth quarter. "I'm proud of the kids," said Ohlendorf. "They played well. As long as they play like this, I can't complain."

North had three players in double figures. Carl basketball

Luehmann led the attack with 15 points. Right behind him was the 10th man, Terry Martin, who scored just 10 points. He was the tallest player on the court, but is lacking in experience. "We're still not producing with our forwards and center," said Ohlendorf. "Not like we'll need to in the future."

While North was spreading most of the scoring duties around, Highland was relying on two men more accurately: Steve Knackstedt and Steve Knackstedt. Knackstedt had half of Sieberlich's total with 14 points, while the pesky Sieberlich who spelled defeat for the Steelers.

"That one kid (Sieberlich) scored 10," said Ohlendorf. "They had some clutch baskets when they had to have them."

North's other player in Ohlendorf. "But then again, we had a lot of room for that."

double figures was Mike Sullivan, who scored 10 points. The Steelers' 6-6 center, Terry Martin, scored just 10 points. He was the tallest player on the court, but is lacking in experience. "We're still not producing with our forwards and center," said Ohlendorf. "Not like we'll need to in the future."

North did shoot better than usual, 15 of 42 from the floor, not exactly red-hot, but still better.

We're still hunting for consistency in our shooting," Ohlendorf said. "We shot better, but didn't get the certain shot selection like we needed."

North had trouble with turnovers at times. "It was the little things that happened throughout the game that added up to the end," Ohlendorf said.

Highland led by three points at the end of the first quarter 16-13 and held a 28-23 halftime advantage. But the Bulldogs increased that margin to six points at the end of the third quarter when they outscored the Steelers 13-12 in the period.

One thing that makes the high school look positive in a way for the Steelers is the fact that Highland is no slouch. Even though the Bulldogs aren't one of the powers in the area, they nonetheless gave Nashville all it could handle in the first round of the tournament, losing 62-61 on a last-second shot.

Their loss dropped North to 0-9 on the season. The next action for the Steelers will be right back on the same floor, Jan. 3 against the Mater Dei Knights.

Venice comes back, dumps Chester

game (which Venice lost to New Athens). The Red Devils bounced back Saturday to beat Chester 71-61 in consolation play. Venice was to play Lebanon today at 1 p.m.

Mater Dei beats Triad

Special to the Press-Record
BRESEE — Host Breese Mater Dei upset second-seeded St. Jacob-Triad here Saturday in the quarterfinals of the Breese Mater Dei Christmas Tournament 76-

39. And it was never close.

The Mater Dei Knights, a well-organized team, made it work. Sieberlich wasn't the key, however. The Knights of Mater Dei were able to get Marckle into foul trouble. He spent much of the second half on the bench with a sprained knee.

"The second seed in the tournament doesn't mean a thing," said Triad coach Steve Weider. "Mater Dei's record isn't indicative of how well they play. They did a pretty good job."

Indeed, Mater Dei came close this season to knocking off two Class AA powers — Mount Vernon and Collinsville.

"I'm very happy," said Cavaleto. "I've never had a team this young before. I think everybody on the team had a hand in it."

But Robben wasn't the only Mater Dei Knight who had the hot hand in the second quarter. The Mater Dei took the lead for good with five minutes remaining in half. After that, it was all Mater Dei.

But Robben wasn't the only Mater Dei Knight who had the hot hand in the second quarter. The Mater Dei took the lead for good with five minutes remaining in half. After that, it was all Mater Dei.

Much of the credit for Mater Dei's victory went to its defense, which held Triad's high-scoring 6-6 center Mark Marckle to 19 points. He had averaged 24 a game in the regular season. Marckle to 19 points. But with a couple of personnel changes, Venice sparked for 21 points in the second quarter and held the Knights to 11 points for a 35-25 lead at the half.

"I brought in (Keith) Marckle and (James) Cox," said Perkins. "Just weren't pushing in the first quarter, so I changed things around. The both did a helluva job."

Venice tallied 18 more in the third stanza for a 51-34 lead. The Red Devil defense

Perkins on refs: 'We got jobbed.'

FRIBURG — An "interesting" situation could well have developed here today around 1 p.m., when Venice was scheduled to take the floor against Lebanon in the consolation round of the Freeburg Holiday Tournament — Venice might NOT have taken to the floor. But only if Larry Betz was one of the referees.

In Friday's first game, Betz and Vern Flory were the referees. "We got jobbed," said Perkins. "There was no doubt about it. I think Betz was out to get our kids. We couldn't do anything without him being all over our backs."

Betzen voiced his complaints during the course of the game. "He's given two technical fouls in the first half," "I just went to the end of the bench and sat," Perkins said. "That's all I could do. If I did anything to my third foul, I would have been ejected."

"It's not the technicals I complain about, it's the way he treated us. We had the same kind of trouble with him in Livonia one time. But I've got no complaint about Flory."

Venice was called for 21 fouls in the game. New Athens was called for 12. "Some of our people were sitting on the New Athens side of the gym," said Perkins. "They said their fans were getting up and leaving, saying 'There's no way we can lose this one. It's rigged.'"

Althoff falls to Teutopolis in opener

Special to the Press-Record
CHARLESTON — Belleville Althoff fell victim to an old nemesis that has haunted basketball teams from East Overshoe to South Bend here Saturday — cold shooting.

The Crusaders dropped a 60-51 decision to Teutopolis in the first round of the Chillicothe Holiday Tournament at Eastern Illinois University. Althoff, now 4-3, was to face Mount Pulaski in the consolation round this morning at 9 o'clock.

Althoff standout Steve Hill managed to score just five points in the game, while averaging 17 going into the contest. Jon Meyer, the leading scorer for the Wooden Shoes, pumped in 21 points for the winners.

BRESEE — Oakville's Rockets simply had too much firepower for Granite City North here Friday morning in the first round of the Breese Mater Dei Christmas Tournament.

"I don't think the score was indicative of how well we played with them," he said. "We set a goal of playing four games in this tournament."

Now 4-6 after all but one game on the road, the Cougars could easily have been 7-3 if not for the loss of their star guard, Kurt Hylly.

This newest edition of the SIUE basketball varsity is young. In fact, there isn't a senior on the squad. And after a few games, the Cougar starting five have pretty well jelled with sophomore Ted Smith and junior Randall Jones.

Dudley was definitely right. Jones was ineffective in the Cougars' first four games, he saw little action. But starting with the University of Missouri, St. Louis 54-55 loss, Jones has begun to show the power of his game. He led all scorers in that contest with 16 points.

The starting list isn't the reporter's guess. It is however, by the playing time racked up and posted by each one. Kabbes, the point guard from St. Anthony High in Effingham, has played 364 minutes. Close to Scott is Smith, the Teutopolis native who is leading the Cougars in practically every category of the game. Smith has clocked 340:35 minutes.

Breathing down St. Louis' neck is Jones with 330:20 minutes of playing time registered.

Against Loras College at the Chicago meet, Jones was sensational, hitting 11-of-18 to lead all scorers as the Cougars won going away, 84-57. In the consolation championship game the Cougars won by 69-68 over a "real tough" St. Xavier quintet from Chicago. Jones came through with four straight baskets to stay off the floor during the losses. His last of four, with 5:50 to go, gave the Cougars apparently safe 58:11 lead.

After a brief surge to the front, he showed dramatically in the Cougar's victory in the last outing when SIUE held on to edge St. Xavier, 69-68. His 13 (six-of-11) points was second to Smith's game high.

SIUE's 10 game statistics show Smith almost completely dominating every facet of the Cougars' game. His .950 from the free throw line is second to the nation; he is shooting an amazing .516 (67-of-130) from the floor and his per-game average of 15.3 is tops for the squad. Finally, Smith has 7.1 caroms per game to lead everyone in rebounding.

Rockets were paced by 5-10 sparkplug guard Greg Renagarbe who pumped in 26 points. But his contributions weren't limited to baskets. His pin-point passing gave him numerous assists.

Last season, North surprised the then-top-seeded Rockets in the first round of the tournament enroute to the championship. This year, the guns weren't there. "High school kids forget things that happened 12 months ago," said North coach Jim Ohlendorf. "Each year is different. Some of the kids on our team didn't even sit on the bench here last year."

But North actually looked respectable at times. But a cold-shooting spell and a stretch with three straight turnovers combined to help defeat the Steelers. "Heck, with a minute to go in the third quarter, we'd run out of time and O'Fallon got it,"

USSF to begin training for Olympics

NEW YORK — The United States Soccer Federation, initiating a new training program for the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles, today announced the formation of the Olympic Development Team. The squad, consisting of amateur 20- to 23-year-olds, will debut against the Bavarian Amateur Selection of West Germany in January in Tampa.

In announcing the Olympic Development Team and the series of matches against the Bavarian Amateur Selection, President Gene Edwards said: "With the United States national soccer team forced to withdraw participation in the 1984 Olympic Games, as the host nation, much preparation is necessary to ensure that we make a good showing. The squad must play a significant role in preparing them and provide our coaches the opportunity to evaluate players as they develop until 1984."

The Bavarian Amateur Selection, which represents one of West Germany's outstanding amateur sides, will provide the

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Ludwig

The First Christian Church in Edwardsville was the scene of the wedding of Miss Tina Marie Anderson and Marine Sergeant Stephen Wayne Agra on Oct. 25.

The Rev. Robert Zollars officiated at the double ring ceremony at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Clegg, 2956 Grand Ave. and Thomas Anderson, a 1916 State St. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Agra of Edwardsville.

For her wedding the bride chose a blue A-line gown of chiffon over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and bishop sleeves accented with Venise and Cluny lace etched with poison.

Her semi-full skirt was encircled with gathered flounces and extended into a chapel train.

She wore a mantilla headpiece of seed pearls to secure her veil and she wore a veil of bridal illusion and she held a silk arrangement of white roses, tiger lilies with bittersweet streamers.

Miss Rhonda Renee Anderson, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Paula Tosh was the bridesmaid.

They chose identical blue A-line gowns designed with sunburst skirts and chiffon caplets. Each carried a basket of silk tiger lilies and bittersweet intermingled with baby's breath.

The groom chose his brother, Steven, as best man. Tina Agra as best man.

Andrew Tosh was the groomsman and James Agra and Dwayne Unagot served as ushers and candlelighters.

Wedding selections included "Sunrise, Sunset" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gude selected a mauve chiffon gown with lace neckline and half tie sleeves. The groom's mother was attired in a teal blue long sleeve dress with pleated skirt.

Both mothers wore silk corsages, tiger lilies and baby's breath.

Guests were received at a reception held at the Montclaire Bowl banquet room in Edwardsville. Miss Mary Grace and Mrs. Pam Rutherford attended the guest table and cake table.

The bride is a 1980 graduate of South High School and the groom graduated from Edwardsville High School in 1976.

The couple resides in Wheeling, Ill., where the bride is employed at Volkswagen of America and the groom is serving with the U.S. Marine Corps stationed at Glenview Naval Air Station in Glenview.

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR JOLLY SIXTIES

Bill and Ann Turner of Division Street, Pontoon Beach, hosted a Christmas party for the Jolly Sixties at the Grace Baptist Church.

The Turners were commanded for the time, effort and talent they expend each week for senior citizens of the area.

The hall was decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Della Brinker. There were 65 present, and each one received a crocheted snowflake.

Christmas songs were sung by the group, with Ruth Connors at the piano, and then Santa Claus arrived with candy and fruit for everyone.

State to improve entrances to Cloverleaf, Eagle Park

After years of urging by the Nameoki Township Board, the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) has placed the widening of Route 203 at Harrison Avenue and the installation of turn lanes on the department's 1981 schedule.

The board was informed of the action in a letter read at the regular board meeting Monday night. The trustees also were told the town would have to agree to signs in writing to maintain the Harrison and Alton Avenue approach and the provide snow removal for that intersection before the work will be done.

The board and Highway Commissioner Frank Meheli agreed to the township's part in the project and a letter to that effect will be sent to IDOT. The township is to be provided to provide four lanes, each 11 feet wide, plus 11-foot-wide turn lanes north and south of the intersection. The Alton Avenue entrance is to be moved about 400 feet south across from Harrison Avenue.

Traffic signals are to be installed at the new intersection. Some moving of the railroad right-of-way is in that area will be necessary.

IDOT will prepare the plans and bid specifications, will bid the project and award the contract and will place the right-of-way according to the letter.

The railroads involved will maintain the relocated railroad entrances which will be moved approximately 60 feet to the west, the letter stipulated.

Numerous letters have been written by the township, both current and past administrators, seeking economic development and Brice R. Smith Jr., executive vice president, Sverdrup Corp., vice chairman of the metropolitan division.

The cause of the fires is under investigation, but arson is suspected. The town board agreed Monday night to seek bids for demolition of the two burned structures.

Highway Commissioner Frank Meheli reported he went to Kreitner School in State Work Place during the day and found the houses last week and planned to demolish them and make a mini-park for use of the area's residents. Both houses were burned the night after the township purchased them.

Hearing March 2 on reclassification of the air

Most of Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties east of the industrialized areas along the Mississippi River from Alton to Waterloo could be reclassified after a March 2 hearing.

Reclassification would allow more sulfur dioxide air pollution. The findings are from a study newly completed by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. Granite City area would not be affected.

The same study shows particulate levels of flyash, soot and airborne dust — are too high to gain any benefit from reclassification.

The quality study was part of a comprehensive environmental assessment of the area which Governor James R. Thompson directed that in 1979 after he petitioned the community leaders from the area to exercise the state's right under the federal Clean Air Act's Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) provisions to reclassify the region from Class II to Class III.

When the Act was amended in 1977, it established a classification system for those areas where air quality was not up to the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS).

National parks and wilderness areas were given special designations, with stringent restrictions placed on the introduction of additional air pollution. All other clean air regions are designated Class II.

Under Class II, new air pollution can be added providing the NAAQS are not exceeded.

Additionally, Class III designation was provided as an option for those areas which want to allow the most air pollution levels possible while remaining within safe limits.

Potentially, the environmental assessment predicts no severe or notable environmental damage due to the introduction of new industry into the area involved, provided that all local, state and federal environmental codes are followed in designing new plants to minimize the strain on local ecosystems.

"There are no guaranteed advantages or disadvantages to reclassification. It will not necessarily accelerate industrial development, nor will it improve the air quality we determine the maximum amount possible. However, reclassification will allow both to occur," Dan Goodwin, manager of the Division of Pollution Control, IEPA, said.

"Reclassification is seen by some as a way of attracting industry."

"It sends a signal to industry that the area has prepared itself to accept development."

"It shows that the communities have gone a step beyond the setting aside of industrial controls so that the area has prepared itself to accept development."

The final decision to reclassify is shared by locally elected officials and the governor.

If the decision is made to reclassify, federal environmental officials are required to review the study and the record of comments and official resolutions. Local-level officials cannot reverse the reclassification decision unless the state failed to follow proper procedures in conducting the study or in adopting its final decision.

The public hearing on the proposed reclassification will be held at 9:30 a.m. March 2 at the Collinsville city clerk's office, 125 S. Center St., Collinsville.

Local-level officials are expected to make their decision following the hearing.

Their decision, accompanied by a hearing record, will be sent to the governor. His decision could be made by the end of May if a majority of the local officials agree to seek reclassification.

The Madison County Opportunities Industrialization Center will be part of a national organization which tries to mobilize community resources to

That versatile old favorite — paneling

If you're shopping for paneling, you may need to update your image of it, says the National Home Improvement Council (NHIC).

Paneling has a new look with bright colors and textures—even designs such as wallpaper or the weathered appearance of old barn boards!

There are literally hundreds of kinds of paneling available today. The traditional warm tones of real wood paneling and new man-made woodgrain simulations offer something for every style, from rustic to contemporary.

BOLD WOODGRAIN of rustic fir-veneered paneling sets a relaxed mood. Prefinished plywood paneling comes in a wide variety of textures and styles to make decorating easy, whatever your taste.

This variety poses questions for many homeowners, notes NHIC. Should you select paneling with a real wood veneer or a simulated woodgrain?

With a little knowledge of materials, says the Council, you'll get the best paneling buy for your money and a product that's suitable for the room you're remodeling.

Plywood paneling is known for strength and durability. Composed of three cross-bonded layers of wood veneer, it can be applied with or without furring strips over existing wall surfaces.

The panel veneer may be a soft or hardwood species. Oak, birch, pine, pecan, cedar and walnut are a few of the popular domestic woods used. Their natural beauty can't be rivaled.

Ranging from the lighter shades of birch and pine to the rich, deep tones of walnut and oak, the subtle variety of texture and grain in real wood paneling makes each sheet distinctive. No two are ever alike.

What's the difference between walnut paneling priced at $30 or more for a 4x8-foot section and another costing less than $10? Both have the characteristic color and shading of wood.

One, points out NHIC, is made with a real walnut veneer. The other is a printed panel with a veneer of imported tropical hardwood over which the "walnut" wood grain and color have been printed.

Tropical hardwood plywood accounts for a large portion of paneling sales. Manufacturing techniques include color-toning to produce the desired shade, printing of woodgrains or patterns, and adding distress marks to otherwise bland surfaces.

Some panels even undergo a multiple stage color print process to get the desired effect.

Panels are usually grooved for the look of real boards. Grooves are either cut or embossed into the panel face, usually 1/16" on center for ease in nailing.

The use of paper overlays is another innovation. Printed woodgrain or patterned papers are laminated to tropical hardwood plywood, then grooved and finished.

Another type of paneling uses wood fibers. Manufactured into 4'x8' sheets, most have a simulated woodgrain pattern. Good-looking and economical, paneling consisting of wood fibers are popular choices for the budget-minded decorator, says NHIC.

Price tags on paneling reflect both quality and availability. Hardwoods prized for their distinctive grains and colors, such as walnut, elm and cherry, generally cost $20 and up per panel.

More plentiful hardwood and softwood veneers, including pine, birch and oak, run from about $12 to $20 per sheet. The "simulated woodgrains" can be had for as little as $5.

Depending on the type and the manufacturer's instructions, paneling may be applied with nails, screws or adhesive to existing walls with or without furring strips, or directly to wood or metal studs.

When shopping for paneling, advises the Council, be aware of the paneling thickness and whether it is plywood or wood fiber. Be sure the product meets local building code requirements.

Diagonal or horizontal application can be an unexpected, eye-catching treatment.

You can create a checkerboard pattern by cutting a 4'x8' sheet into 24" squares, then applying them in alternating directions. Or add a custom designed look with decorative moldings as accents.

Exposed beams with paneling on a vaulted ceiling of a large room can give it scale and warmth.

Whatever your decor and price range, you are sure to find a paneling that's right for you. Beautiful, durable and versatile, wall paneling today even makes decorating fun.
